We love being on the go for adventures with friends and family, our Founder Dr. Jason was always in search of a refreshing alternative to standard energy drinks and typical sodas on road trips, working the night shift, and keeping up with kids and life on the go. Too much caffeine, too much sugar, too artificial tasting...all these dissatisfactions with current options that also made him feel bad later. Frustrated by the lack of a better choice, our drinks were created to meet the needs and wants of travelers, adventure enthusiasts and active people on the go with a healthier, great-tasting drink. It quenches thirst and gives you the boost you need without excessive caffeine or sugar, so you can get on to your next adventure feeling good. Running Lights' formulation is unique with the addition of whey protein to help avoid snacking on the go, and give you sustained energy. That's why we're FUEL FOR THE JOURNEY. So, whatever your journey may be, you can feel good about reaching for a cold Running Lights!
