big flavor. small footprint.

About Us.

Made in Virginia. Blue Ridge Bucha has been handcrafting delicious kombucha in the Blue Ridge Mountains of Virginia since 2010. Our brewery is located in beautiful Waynesboro, Virginia, nestled in between Nelson and Augusta Counties, not far from Wintergreen Resort.

A Family Business. We are owned by a Richmond-based family — Angie, Hank, Franklin, Dotty, and Jasper Heyming. Everyone takes part in the business in some way, from loading boxes to sales. If you’ve been to a farmer’s market or festival, or happened upon an in-store demo, chances are you’ve met a few of us. (Jasper in particular loves to give out “tasty” samples.) It is Hank, though, who spends the most time on site at the brewery, working with the Blue Ridge Bucha Team to continue the tradition of making real kombucha that tastes great.

Traditions. Most importantly, although the makeup of the Blue Ridge Bucha Team has changed over the years, our company’s commitment to quality and to our mission of sustainability has remained at our core.
